We are frequently called to account in the following manner: some que calls at the Institution and says, "We sent you, Sir, a doneshion of previsions (or money) on such a day, but you did not achieveledge it."

Our explanation in most cases is this: There are two Mission Houses at the Five Foints; our building is called House of Industry (Mr Prans's), the other building is called House of Industry (Mr Prans's), the other building is called House of Industry (Mr Prans's), the other building is called House of Industry (Mr Prans's), the other building is called House of Industry (Mr Prans's), the other building is called House of Industry (Mr Prans's), and or course we could not acknowledge the reception, because the two houses have so connection. Donations intended for us should be attended, "I. M. Prans'n or B. R. Barlow, House of Industry, N. Y." Grateful for the liberality of our friends, we feel bound in justice to them and to currelved make this statement.
